Unexpended highway funds		812 34

Owing to the roads being found in very good condition last Spring and there being very little damage done by the frost and rains there has been a considerable sum left over unexpended from last year's highway tax of 30c. Ordinarily the roads can be expected to be much more badly washed and rutted. A large sum of money should be spent in widening and grading the road from Robinson Junction through to the head of the North Randolph Gulf road and on account of the uncertainty of getting state aid for this I recommend a continuance of the 30c tax which would permit the expending upon this road of about $1500 in addition to the usual machine work. This would be insufficient to do all the work but it might be continued from year to year until completed. If the town does not care to raise 30c I would then recommend a 25c tax and a special tax of 5c for winter road work as provided by law. This special 5c tax will not take care of all the winter work but will relieve the necessity of appropriating from the general fund for the entire cost of the winter work.

I wish to thank the town for the many courtesies shown me during my six years service as road commissioner. As my time is taken on other lines, I am not a candidate for re-election.

C. W. Danyow.

There is due the town from the state about $175.00, also from E. L. Sault for the use of the cement mixer about $100.00.

Last year the liabilities of the town were $6999.30. This year the assets exceed the liabilities by $1304.44.

The undersigned have examined the accounts of the town officers and find proper vouchers for every dollar expended. It would simplify the work of auditing and also tend to greater accuracy if all town bills were paid with town orders instead of personal checks, as is done in some cases. While the town is apparently out of debt it would be well to remember that the town is indebted to the cemetery fund including interest nearly $4000.00 and it is recommended that if funds are available part be retired each year until entirely paid for. It appears that it will be safe to reduce the town tax somewhat, but owing to the uncertainty of the state tax and other conditions we recommend that a tax of $1.00 be raised to pay the current expenses of the town the coming year.

REPORT OF TRUSTEES.

Owing to the increased expense of carrying on the work of the Library, the Trustees of the Kimball Public Library respectfully ask of the town the sum of one thousand dollars.($1000) for the coming year.

HOMER WHITE, President and secretary.

Jan. 29, 1919.

Report of Librarian, Kimball Public Library
For the Period Feb. 1, 1918 Through Jan. 15, 1919.

The circulation statistics for this period are as follows:—Total, (including books, unbound periodicals, and pamphlets), 18,833, of which number 303 went to the exchange station at Randolph Center, 379 to 58 readers at South Randolph, 350 to 43 readers at East Randolph, while 829 (407 non-fiction; 422, fiction) were circulated from 25 collections in 12 district schools. Again this year, every district school in town has had one or more collections, and 11 collections are still out. The total circulation includes the unbound periodical and pamphlet circulation amounting to 1444, a gain of 87 over last year. In all the other records mentioned a slight decrease is shown, due, in very large measure to the increased war activities on the part of the general public, and also in the case of the main library to the fact that, owing to the influenza quarantine, the library has been open fewer days than usual. The daily average circulation from the main library for this period (289 days open) was 59.75 and the per capita circulation (town population) was 5.89 a good rate. Boxes containing over 500 books, contributed by the public at the request of the library, have been forwarded to serve our overseas forces. These books were prepared for use by the librarian, ably assisted by volunteers from among our young people. Over 40 books, destined for military hospitals, are now awaiting shipping instructions.

At the request of the State Director, Mr. F. A. Howland of Montpelier, thrift stamps have been on sale at the library and 184 have been sold. Other patriotic activities have been furthered by the library.

Work with the schools has been carried on as usual, and instruction in the use of reference books and the card catalog has been given to several classes in accordance with the wishes of the teachers.

63 additional persons have registered for the privilege of taking books.

The library has subscribed for 19 magazines—14 monthlies and 5 weeklies, and 9 monthlies, 3 weeklies, 3 bi-weeklies and 1 quarterly have been presented. 1 daily and 1 weekly newspaper are subscribed for and 2 daily newspapers and 1 weekly illustrated paper are presented.

48 volumes have been rebound and 2 volumes of St. Nicholas and 2 volumes of the National Geographic magazine bound. New awnings have been presented by the Misses Kimball and original posters by Gloden Marshall and Franklin Stockwell. Gifts of unbound periodicals have been received from the King's Daughters, the D. A. R., Mrs. P. C. Dodge, Mrs. C. F. Moulton, Hon. J. W. Rowell, G. W. Patterson, H. F. Moulton, (New York) and certain government departments, and patriotic societies.

187 volumes have been added to the library, of which 22 were purchased, 4 bound volumes of magazines, and 161 gifts, as follows: Miss Clara L. Kimball, 21; Miss Annie L. Kimball, 10; Randolph Women's Literary Club, 37; Mrs. Inez Segar, 48; Mrs. W. H. Nichols, 15; Mrs. J. W. Rowell, 1; Miss Ammie A. Walsh, 4; Mrs. E. H. Allis, 2; Mrs. P. F. Morse, 1; Mrs. G. P. Lamson, 1; Mrs. H. N. Story, (Philadelphia) 1; Miss Lucia T. Clark, (New Haven) 1; Mrs. M. L. Washburn, 1; Mrs. C. F. Moulton, 1; Miss Carolyn Wright, 1; F. E. Wyman, (Montpelier) 9; H. T. Johnson, 2; G. W. Patterson 1; E. F. Manchester, 1; Morris Shapiro, 1; Miss Desier C. Moulton, 1; Pullman Co., 1.

The library now owns 8558 volumes.

DESIER C. MOULTON, Librarian.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Directors and Citizens of the Town of Randolph:

Your superintendent respectfully presents the following condensed report of the work of the schools for the last twelve months.

He wishes to thank the teachers, directors, parents and pupils who have given him their usual hearty cooperation. Our teaching force this year is an excellent one notwithstanding the difficulty experienced in getting good teachers owing to war conditions. By engaging them early in the year enough were obtained to fill all the schools. Later, owing to the high salaries offered by the government and industrial firms for war work we lost some of our best teachers but the resulting shortage was largely overcome by the work of married teachers. The superintendent wishes to express his appreciation of their services which were rendered, in some cases, at a considerable sacrifice to themselves. Without their assistance some of the rural schools could not have been opened. Most of these married teachers resigned at the end of the first term, others having been found to take their places. The situation became more acute during the winter, it being impossible to find teachers for two schools and it is expected that the teacher shortage will be more acute next year.

The schools have suffered seriously from the effects of the two influenza epidemics. The Randolph High and Graded schools being the most effected. Some of the lost time was made up by teaching Saturdays and holidays but it is unlikely that all of the time can be made up in some of the schools.

The superintendent was pleased to be present at the first meeting of the entering class of the Randolph High School. This class is the largest in the history of the school; it is larger than the entire high school was at the time Mr. E. G. Ham became principal. More than half of the class are rural school graduates from this supervisory district. It is especially gratifying to note that nearly all of the rural graduates are in high school, either in Randolph or Brookfield. Brookfield still leads the three towns in the percent of rural graduates in high school, practically 100 per cent attending high school. The size of the class shows that the people of this district wish their children to have a good education and appreciate the advantages of a high school course. This is especially shown at this time of a shortage of farm labor when a boy of high school age is an asset on any farm. This same appreciation of an education is shown in the regular attendance in the rural schools, the attendance in most of the rural schools being above the state average.

Your superintendent wishes to emphasize the importance of the Eye and Ear Test, so called. Some time ago the teachers made this test which is required by law but on account of the prevalence of influenza the test did not include all pupils. As soon as conditions become normal the remainder of the pupils will be examined. This is an elementary test which shows if the pupils need medical attention. It indicated that 40 per cent of the pupils have some physical defect that needs attention. Defective eyesight is the most common one; 28 per cent of the pupils need the attention of an oculist.

This defect is easily remedied at a small expense compared with its value to the pupil. Ear, nose and throat trouble are reported among 6 per cent of the pupils. Adenoids result in the impairment of the mental ability of pupils. It is very evident that a pupil with poor eyesight can not get the full value of the large amount of blackboard work given by the teacher while one with ear trouble does not get all he should from the recitations. Throat trouble is responsible for poor attendance in many cases. People realize the value of good schools, but do not all of us realize the necessity of having our children in the best physical condition in order that they may get the full benefits of a good school?

The total enrollment in the schools for this year can not be given at this time but some impressive figures can be given from the latest published statistics of the district. The latest figures show that nearly 1,000 pupils were registered in the schools of the district during the year. From the examination given this year it is evident that there are nearly 400 pupils that need attention of some kind; 280 need the attention of an oculist and 60 need the attention of a physician to correct ear, nose or throat trouble. Checking up cases of retardation we find that about 75 percent of the pupils who were not promoted are among those the teacher has reported to their parents as needing the attention of a physician or oculist. The superintendent knows of several cases of pupils who had adenoids who were unable to make satisfactory progress in school; after the adenoids were removed the pupils' work was satisfactory. Much more attention is being paid by parents to this examination this year than at any previous time, but there still remain several hundred cases untreated. The lack of attention to a physical defect is also a distinct economic loss. Examination shows that about 5 per cent of the cases of absences are caused by illness having a direct connection with physical defects. This means a loss of 7,000 days attendance per year. As it costs as much to run a school with a part attendance as with a full attendance this loss of time represents $2,000 worth of instruction paid for but not received. Let us act on this problem.

We face a serious shortage of teachers. The U. S. Education Bureau has made a study of this subject and the report from the superintendents of the country showed that there were 50,000 vacant positions in the schools of this country last September. At present there are 22,500 rural teachers short of the normal supply in the country and thousands of schools are without teachers. A shortage exists in this state and in this district. There will be only about 25 percent of the normal number of teachers graduating from the normal schools and teachers training classes in June. There will be difficulty in finding teachers for the next year and it is probable that we can not find our full quota of teachers for next year. We shall have to do the best we can under the circumstances.

The schools responded well to every war work call. The reports of the work done by the schools, with the exception of the war emergency training schools, were published in the local press and space will not be taken to repeat these reports. The superintendent wishes to thank the people who assisted in the work. Among those who gave considerable time are the teachers and pupils; the Woman's Club committee of Randolph, Mrs. Byron Manchester, chairman; who took charge of the inspection of the village pupil's gardens; Misses Ivis Flint and Marguerite Hutchinson who gave their summer vacation inspecting the rural school garden work, and Miss Esther Flint who did most of the clerical work in the rural office during the summer. With the exception of about two weeks the superintendent remained in Randolph during the summer looking after the war work.

The teachers and pupils may well feel gratified with the results of their work to help win the war.

Soon after school opened in the fall five emergency war training classes for conscripted men were formed for the training of future soldiers with a view to furnishing skilled men of which there was a great shortage in the army. A school in automobile repairing was ready to be opened in November but the armistice caused us to change our plans. Two schools in blacksmithing were formed at V. S. A., one in blacksmithing and one in machine shop work at the plant of Sargent, Osgood & Roundy and one in wireless telegraphy, which met in the Randolph High School building and the superintendent's office. The expense of instruction of the classes was met by the state, the overhead cost was given by V. S. A., Sargent, Osgood Roundy, the Randolph Incorporated School District thru the prudential committee, and the time and expense of supervision was given by the superintendent. Twenty men completed the course in blacksmithing at V. S. A. under the instruction of Ernest McIntosh; 6 men completed a similar course at the foundry under Walter Lewis, while at the same time and place a class of 7 men completed the machine shop course under Harvey Hayward. There were 26 men enrolled in the wireless telegraph course under C. C. Clarke and the advanced section was ready to finish the course when the influenza and the signing of the armistice put a stop to the work. In all there were 65 men enrolled and more men would have been instructed but for lack of facilities. Had the war continued we could have formed automobile classes and repeated the other work and thereby instructed all the men, about 100, who wished instruction in the classes. The result, of the work were gratifying; the percentage of the men making good progress and completing the work was about 50 percent above the number expected by the federal authorities, this being due to the class of instruction and the kind of men in the classes, both being above the average.

Respectfully submitted.

GEORGE W. PATTERSON,
Superintendent.
